FOREWORD

It is again our pleasure to submit our Price List for 1960, made possible by the wonderful response of our many satisfied customers throughout the United States and Canada. We are indeed grateful for the many kind letters received, praising our service, our plants and method of packing, as well as our generous plant bonus offered with each order deserving a bonus.

This year we have worked hard, trying to give our customers a short description of even the cheapest lilies. We've added hundreds of varieties to our collection including 1960 introductions from most of the leading Hybridizers in the country, thereby, giving our customers a more complete listing of which we're very proud.

Many of you will recall the beautiful green Russell Hybrid that we and Mr. MacMillan purchased during the 1958 convention. This green beauty has proven to be an outstanding daylily and without a doubt will rank as one of the top varieties on the market. We are happy to include this one in our 1960 Introductions, as Saint Patrick.

You will also find in our 1960 Introductions, Jennie Seddon hybrid of Mrs. Mildred Schlumpf and Ebony Embers hybrid of Mrs. Herman E. Nelson. We have grown these two varieties for several years, and we do not hesitate to recommend them to our customers.

It is with deep appreciation and heartfelt thanks for your patronage that we proudly submit this, our largest listing since we've handled daylilies only.

Visitors are welcomed the year round, but we especially urge you to see our gardens May 1st, through July 15th. Our location is easy to find, just follow La. Highway 94 to our gardens, and you will find a treat in store.

In conclusion may we again thank everyone that has patronized us and hope that if you haven't already tried our service you will do so this year.

Sincerely,
C. G. & Louise Simon

1960 INTRODUCTIONS

We are very happy to co-introduce with Mr. W. B. MacMillan our very good friend and neighbor, "SAINT PATRICK" commonly known as 58-1½ Russell-Simon-MacMillan. Many of you will remember the large beautiful green hybrid we and Mr. MacMillan bought from Mr. Russell during the 1958 Houston Convention. That is how it is referred to in the many inquiries we have received concerning its performance and date of introduction.

Mr. Hooper P. Connell's remark just before we bought it "Its the greeniest thing I have ever seen" was enough said; and to back up his conviction, a few days after the 1958 convention, we received his check for the first release. The name "SAINT PATRICK" was later suggested by Mr. Connell and we were very happy and proud to be privileged to name this beautiful green creation in his honor.

SAINT PATRICK (Russell-Simon-MacMillan) 24" E. Ev Re. A very large, strong, pale yellow 7" flower with a bright lime-green throat that extends more than half way into the segments. The flared out, slightly ruffled petals are 2" wide and sepals 1½" recurving slightly making it look perky. Wonderful substance with a smooth waxy texture. very sun resistant. The scapes are strong and erect with multiple branching over blue-green foliage. It stays open very late. Fast multiplier. J. C. 195835.00

We feel honored to be privileged to introduce "JENNIE SEDDON", Hybrid of Mrs. Mildred Schlumpf and "EBONY EMBERS", Hybrid of Mrs. Rerman E. Nelson. We have grown these two varieties for several years under close observation, and they have performed beautifully. We do not hesitate to recommend these varieties to our friends as top varieties in their respective classes.

JENNIE SEDDON (Schlumpf) 34" E. M. Ev. Re. A large 6" lime yellow flower with a green throat that has a definite flare. The form is exquisite, having wide petals, pinched and slightly twisted, while its sepals are nicely recurved. The center of the wide petals is raised, adding to its distinctive form. It is sun resistant and fragrant. A wonderful addition to its much sought for color class.$15.00

EBONY EMBERS (Nelson) 36" E. M. Ev. Re. The name is descriptive to a great extent but to appreciate it one must see it. Actually the color is closer to burnt gold with black wash, the glow of the gold shining through. It has a very unusual form. Segments overlap in the center of the flower, petals recurves, sepals recurves even more, showing the underlining of gold at the tips. Petals have a gold midrib with black veining on each side, meeting into a green-gold throat. A different daylily from any we've ever seen. Scapes are strong, Branching ample. -----$15.00
